Robert Tyler, 36, of Eldorado Drowns When Auto Plunges Off Rt. 34

Robert Tyler, 36, of Eldorado this morning became a traffic fatality when the auto he was driving plunged off Route 34 two miles north of Harrisburg, and landed on its top in about three and a half feet of water.

Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons said that although Tyler suffered injuries including a blow above the eye, death presumably was due to drowning. His body was taken from within the partially submerged car, an old model machine.

The fatality occurred between 5 and 5:30 a. m. City Policeman John Stunson said that he and Policeman Paul Abney, on duty at the time, were notified up town at 5:30 a. m. by a Benton motorist who had passed the scene that there was an auto in the water.

The accident could not have happened long before that time, he said, because the car went through a guard rail and the motorist had to clear debris off the highway before he could proceed on to Harrisburg.

Body Found Inside Car

The two officers sped to the scene, which is the small bridge on Route 34 between the two bridges with superstructures over which traffic crosses Bankston and Middle Fork creeks.

There they discovered that the car, which had been traveling northward, left the highway on the left, or west side, and plunged into the water, landing upside down.

Stunson waded into the creek to try to locate any victims but could not find a wrecker was called. When it had pulled the vehicle partly up from the bottom, a body was found inside the car.

Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons, who with state police was called to the scene, said that identification was made through a gasoline sales slip in the shirt pocket of the man, made out to Robert Tyler and dated May 14.

The body was moved by ambulance to the Gaskins funeral home, to await an ambulance from the Martin funeral home at Eldorado.

Mr. Tyler is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tyler, and the following brothers and sisters: Gibson Tyler, Eldorado, Thomas, Seorial, and Carter Tyler, all of Ottawa, Mrs. Pauline Hawkins, West Frankfort, Mrs. Alma Lee Poole, Indiana, Mrs. Hazel Coffee and Mrs. Dan Hennelsman, both of Ottawa; four half brothers, J. N. Tyler and Donald Tyler, who are with the U. S. Army, and Sammy and Randall Tyler, who are at home in Eldorado, and seven half sisters: Barbara Rodgers, Joliet, Mrs. Mary Jane McCoy, Gary, Ind., and Rita, Delores, Marie, Virginia and Phyllis at home.

The funeral will be held Monday 2 p. m. at Tate's chapel, with burial in adjoining cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the Martin funeral home. At Du Quoin, state police said Tyler's death was the 16th traffic fatality this month in the 17 counties of state police Dist. 13. There were only five fatalities in April and no traffic deaths were reported on highways in the district in March.

The hand really is a white radish that Wayne grew at his place out there but it is an uncanny facsimile of a hand, with four fingers and a thumb, all in the right places. The fingernails are long, but like yours or mine, they could be trimmed.

PUBLICITY DEPT.: Guess who sold more Pepsi-Cola drinks in 1953 than any other business place in southern Illinois? I was astounded because I knew there are a lot of much bigger soft drink establishments, right here in Harrisburg.

The answer is Sam Parker's Midway. His place sold more than 100,000 Pepsi-Cola drinks last year, which is about 276 of them every day, seven days a week.

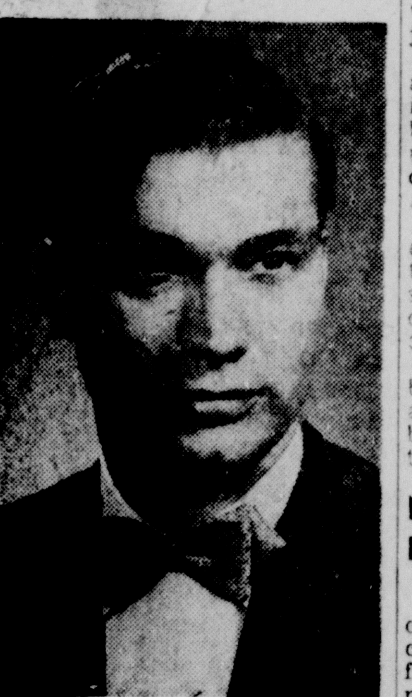

As an award for his good business he received an electric clock from the company. Harry L. Crisp of Marion, bottler, and Norm Wesser, Chicago, representative over nine states, came here to congratulate Sam.

MAIL: Received a letter from the Rev. Leo Darnell, formerly of Harrisburg and now minister of the First Church of the Nazarene at Seymour, Ind., which tells of his son, Edward L. W. B. Welch is Named Treasurer of High School District

W. B. Welch has been appointed treasurer of the Harrisburg Township high school district under a new law that goes into effect July 1. The appointment of school district treasurer to be made in the county.

Appointment was made at a meeting of the HTHS Board of Education yesterday afternoon. George Davenport, board president, announced today. In addition to being high school district treasurer, the law provides that he shall act as treasurer for all school districts which have three-member boards of directors in the territory of the high school district.

The new law provides for abolition of the old setup, which called for the election of township school trustees who appointed a township school treasurer, and provides for the appointment of treasurers by all seven-member boards of education in the state. The same treasurer can be appointed by more than one or all boards of education in the county, if desired.

R. Dale Wilson, county superintendent of schools, is calling a meeting of school board members, township trustees, township treasurers and school administrators of the county to be held at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the Harrisburg Junior high school.

Purpose of the meeting, he said, is to explain and discuss this new law and the transition from the present setup to the one that goes into effect July 1.

Americans Value Freedoms, Eisenhower Says

President Hits 'Unworthy Scenes' in Armed Forces Day Talk

WASHINGTON (U-P)— President Eisenhower let the world know on this Armed Forces Day that Americans value their freedoms although "diverted by unworthy scenes even in our national capital."

The President apparently referred to the current Army-McCarthy hearings but he did not specify what he meant by "unworthy scenes."

As this nation's armed forces prepared to parade their strength in ceremonies here and at bases around the world, Mr. Eisenhower said the might of free men in a united cause must eventually conquer dictatorship and tyranny.

"Never forget the strength of freedom of the free world," Mr. Eisenhower said, echoing the theme of Armed Forces Day — "Power For Peace."

The President and Acting Secretary of Defense Robert B. Anderson launched the celebration in speeches at a dinner here Friday night attended by top congressional, military and government officials.

Included in today's program honoring the men and women of the armed services are parades in many U. S. cities and abroad; displays of ships, planes, weapons and equipment; aerial flyovers; and an airborne practice jump in Japan.

In addition an Armed Forces Day handicap was scheduled at Churchill Downs, Ky., and a fashion show in New York. Seattle, Wash., planned to welcome some 4,000 veterans returning from Korea with a parade.

Anderson told the Armed Forces Day audience that Russia is bent on "conquest on the installment plan," whereby it can gobble up nations without inviting free world retaliation. He said the free world must forbid further Red gains.

The President devoted most of his remarks to reminiscences of his 34 years in the Army. He said he had been in many difficult places with Americans and from these experiences had become convinced that "free men can do anything" when they set their hearts to it.

"We know how much we value our right to worship as we please, to speak as we please, to choose our own occupations, to try to give to our children the kind of training in beliefs and faith that we believe will bring them happiness. We know the value we place on those things."

"If at times, we seem to ignore them, if we are torn by doubts or current fears, or our attention is diverted by unworthy scenes, even in our national capital, we still know that we are America. The heart of America is sound."

Spring Flower Show Held Friday by Saline County Garden Club

A fairly large crowd was present at all times between 1 p. m. and 9 p. m. yesterday afternoon at the Saline County Garden club's Spring Flower Show. "Garden Glories" was the event was held in the Masonic temple.

Entries, which were to be in by 10 a. m. yesterday, were judged before 1 p. m. by Mrs. John Van Trease and Mrs. W. F. Johnson, both of Eldorado, and given first, second and third place ribbons.

For the occasion the basement of the temple was beautifully decorated with large baskets of roses, lilies, poppies, mock orange and other flowers, and was centered with white garden furniture on a blanket of green grass.

There were somewhat fewer entries this year, but what the flowerers lacked in quantity, they made up in quality.

Dulles Charges Communists Insist on Peace Formula to Seize Southeast Asia

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (U-P)— Secretary of State John Foster Dulles virtually wrote off the chances of an honorable peace in Indochina today by declaring the Communists will insist on a formula permitting them to seize Southeast Asia.

Dulles warned that the current Indochina truce talks at Geneva demonstrate that it is still the "implacable purpose" of Communist bloc leaders to extend their empire until they have conquered the world.

"That is conspicuously the case today in relation to the 200 million people in Southeast Asia," he said. "Their avowed aim is to bring all of mankind under the rule of their system."

Dulles made the statement in a speech prepared for the annual celebration of the Virginia resolution for American independence. His somber assessment of Communist objectives came after informed sources revealed in Washington that the United States has agreed to confer with France on the conditions under which this country might intervene in the Indochina war.

Dulles said the United States this year had negotiated in good faith with Soviet rulers on atomic energy controls, Germany, Austria, Korea "and now Indochina."

"Always there is a consistent pattern," Dulles said. "Never will they relax their grip on what they have. In each of the geographic areas I mention, they insist upon a formula which will not only assure the perpetuation of their despotism within the areas they now control, but also allow them to apply their ruthless methods to gain control of the areas which are still free."

The cease fire terms offered by the Communists called for withdrawal of all foreign troops from Indochina, among other things, and were branded by U. S. officials as tantamount to an unconditional surrender.

The secretary said he believes negotiations with Russia are important even "if these results could have been foreseen." He said no one has the right to conclude that war is inevitable or that methods of conciliation are futile. Moreover he said the East-West talks held under safeguards of refusing to compromise on liberty have clarified the issues.

SALINE COUNTY OIL REPORT: Stelle Starts Third Test In Eldorado Suburbs

By BOB SKEELS

On the west suburbs of Eldorado, John Stelle and Associates have started their third test, the No. 1 Emil Choiser, NE NW SW, and were drilling today below 2350 with Byron Rucker's rotary tools of Mt. Vernon.

Their No. 1 John J. Jones, NE NE SW, is being put on a production test to complete in the Waltersburg, Paint Creek and Aux Vases sand. The Waltersburg swabbed 14 barrels oil per hour after fracturing. Paint Creek swabbed eight barrels per hour and the Aux Vases sand swabbed four barrels per hour. Looks good for 250 barrels a day when finally settled.

The No. 2 John Jones, a west offset, has casing set to test oil saturation in the Tar Springs, Paint Creek and Aux Vases sand line.

Four miles northwest of Eldorado, Brown and Robison are awaiting cable tools to clean out and test their No. 1 Woolard Heirs, 35-7s-6e, and their No. 4 J. H. Macsey, both commercial oil wells in the Cypress sand.

To Drill Wildcat Test

W. E. Weidner, independent operator of Salem, has applied for a permit to drill a rank wildcat on the Woolard Heirs lease, SW SW NE, 9-3s-5e, two miles west of Galatia near Rileyville. The Alech Drilling Company of Salem will do the contracting and is expected to move in about the 21st of this month.

Walter Duncan is in the process of completing his No. 1 Martin Blankenship, NW SW SE, 2-8s-6e, five miles northwest of Eldorado in the Cypress sand 2634-46.

In the same area, George and Wraithor's No. 5 B. F. Lemons, NW SW NE, is cleaning out after fracturing with 1500 gallons of gel thru perforations opposite the Cypress sand 2534-45. It swabbed oil at the rate of one barrel per hour natural.

The same operators' No. 3 Earl and Sally Rhine has set casing on good Cypress sand and have completed their No. 1 for an initial production of 90 barrels oil a day also from the Cypress sand after fracturing.

Dee Miller and Walter Duncan completed the Cypress 2582-94 on

$200,000 Will Be Issued When City is Ready

Action by Bond Firm Will Speed Work On Lake Harrisburg

Lake Harrisburg today appeared a much closer reality with the information that the Chicago bond firm, Barcus-Kindred and Co., will issue the entire $200,000 bond issue just as soon as the city can get ready to take it.

This means that the city must now get its engineer's report, secure abstracts on the land to be bought and take care of some lesser details and Barcus-Kindred will be ready to negotiate the $200,000 bond issue to build Lake Harrisburg and make some other improvements.

Announcement was made by Mayor Ralph Horning, who said he had received word of the approval of the $200,000 issue by the Chicago law firm, Chapman and Cutler, which approves issues for bond firms.

Approval Follows Audit

Approval by Atty. Paul Cutler, it was learned, came after the audit of the water department made this month by the Belleville audit firm, Rice and Bedel. This firm has been auditing the City of Harrisburg's books for more than a score of years and finished up with the water department accounts before getting into the books of the city proper.

The audit report of Rice and Bedel, for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1954, showed a water department net income for the year of $40,615.87.

The report showed a total income of $112,913.90; operating expenses of $58,325.03, and other expenses which were: provision for depreciation, $2,250; interest on bonds $12,512.50; amortization of bond discount $596.66; and non-recurrent expenses including an interim audit fee of $2,000 for a special audit made last fall and $350 for expenses of trip to Chicago by the council and attorney.

Follows Gloomy Report — The heartening news followed gloomy advices from Chicago less than a month ago. Up to that time the city had figured on getting $60,000 for the strength of the audit last fall for the purchase of land between Raleigh and Galatia for Lake Harrisburg. Then around April 18 the city was informed that Barcus-Kindred wanted to buy only $51,000 in bonds at the present, which the city knew would not be enough for land purchases.

At that time it was stated that Barcus-Kindred was being advised by Chapman and Cutler that only $51,000 in bonds should be bought.

Voters of the city of Harrisburg on March 18 voted by the large majority of 2,301 to 901 to construct a Lake Harrisburg to give the city in ample water supply and make other improvements.

The water improvement project calls for the purchase of approximately 500 acres of land in a natural watershed between Raleigh and Galatia, the dam to be near Route 34 at the point where the road dips and curves just this side of Galatia.

Other Improvements — About 300 acres of this ground would be under water, according to plans, with enough water to last three years and three months under present normal needs when full.

To construct the dam, 110,000 cubic yards of dirt must be moved. There will be a spillway and gateways and water will move by gravity down Middle Fork creek, to be picked up by pipe near the present reservoirs.

Besides the lake, plans call for a filter plant addition and equipment and some extension of the city water mains.

Finland Reports Shots Exchanged by Soviet, U. S. Planes

HELSINKI, Finland (U-P)—A Finnish newspaper reported today that foreign jet planes believed to be Russian and American exchanged shots over northern Finland last Saturday.

U. S. Air Force Headquarters at Wiesbaden said "any unidentified aircraft reported to have been sighted over northern European countries in the past few weeks were not operated by the U. S. Air Force."

There have been persistent reports of "mystery planes" over Scandinavian countries since April 28 when a "number of unidentified planes" was first reported over Sweden and Denmark and the Baltic Islands.

Army-McCarthy Proceedings Boggled by Odd Trial Setup

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)—For the U. S. government in particular, and the American people in general, to put up with the disgraceful Army-McCarthy proceedings much longer will require a national fortitude of the highest order.

This is a real test of democracy. If it can take this punishment, it can survive anything the world has to offer — including Russian H-bombs.

This started out to be a simple investigation by a Senate committee of the charge that undue influence was used by Senator McCarthy and his staff to get an Army commission for J. G. David Schine, now a drafted military police private. It has since been inflated beyond recognition.

Instead of a mere countercharge that Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens had tried to use the Schine case as blackmail to prevent an investigation of communism at Fort Monmouth, N. J., Senator McCarthy has now broadened his charges to include defiance of President Eisenhower, Attorney General Herbert Brownell and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

THIS SITUATION has developed from the utterly fantastic conditions under which this probe was set up. There never was any "trial" — as Committee Counsel Ray M. Jenkins sometimes calls it — like this. Get the picture:

This is probably the only case in legal history in which two conflicting sets of charges were tried at the same time. Each of the plaintiffs is thus also a defendant. The jury—the Senate committee—is also acting as the judges and as prosecuting attorneys.

Senator McCarthy, one of the plaintiff-defendants, may also sit with the judges and jury when they retire to chambers for consultation or closed deliberations on new issues brought up in the trial. Senator McCarthy also acts interchangeably as witness, prosecuting and defense attorney.

Counsel Jenkins, supposed to be acting as prosecuting attorney for both sides in presenting this case to the judges-jury, also advises the chief justice and foreman of the jury—Senator Mundt—on the rulings and interpretations of law he should make.

Roy Cohn, counsel for Senator McCarthy, is also a codefendant in the charges filed by Secretary Stevens et al. John Adams, one of the secretary's counsel, is also a codefendant in the charges filed by Senator McCarthy.

AND AS IF this situation isn't cockeyed enough, it is further complicated by the ability of Senator McCarthy to change his complaint and enlarge his charges as the trial goes on.

It would be impossible for any group of men—even if they had all the wisdom possessed by chief justices of the U. S. Supreme Court from John Marshall to Charles Evans Hughes—to come to any clear decision under these crazy circumstances.

This was obvious at the beginning to several senators who tried to sidetrack the whole proceeding. They were convinced that the investigation would prove nothing and accomplish nothing. But they were not listened to.

The honorable committee is now so wound up in its own red tape that it doesn't know how to get out of its predicament. At least five serious attempts to end the hearings have bogged down.

There is, perhaps, one as yet untried means to bring this sorry scandal to an end. This is for President Eisenhower himself to call in all parties concerned and demand a quick settlement.

HE MIGHT EVEN dictate something drastic: Send Private Schine to the most remote Army base on the map. Ask both Cohn and Adams to resign. Dismiss both sets of charges without prejudice and without recourse. And then get on with the business of government.

President Eisenhower started to get mad about this situation at his press conference on April 28. A week later he apologized and said he might bar further questions. However, since then he has given some pretty pointed answers to press conference questions.

It is only fair to wonder, however, what General of the Armies Dwight D. Eisenhower would have done if his wartime staff at Supreme Headquarters, Allied Forces in Europe, had started quarreling among themselves.

General Eisenhower did not hesitate to take disciplinary action against the late Gen. George S. Patton when he slapped an Army private in a hospital tent in Sicily. A spokesman for General Eisenhower reported then that he "ripped the hide off Patton."

Amoma Class Meets With Mrs. Edith B. Henderson
An enjoyable time was had Thursday evening, May 6, when the members of the Amoma Sunday school class of the First Baptist church met at the home of Edith B. Henderson for their regular meeting and social hour.

The meeting was called to order by the class president, Ella Chase, and the theme song, "Our Best," was sung by the group. The devotion, which was taken from the eleventh chapter of Luke, was given by Oma Baker and Mrs. Ethel Rann led in prayer.

After the regular business delicious refreshments of "pigs in blankets," waldorf salad, toasted nuts, punch and striped sticks of candy to represent May poles were served. They were served from a lace covered table with a pink May pole placed in the center of the table, surrounded by lovely spring flowers. Favors were crocheted baskets filled with flowers. The home was decorated throughout with spring flowers. After the refreshments were served Mrs. Irene Rushing and Mrs. Ethel Rann had charge of the entertainment.

Those present were Mesdames Carrye Hart, teacher, Mamie Holmes, Flora Allen, Oma Baker, Goldie Abney, Sylvia Adams, Ethel Rann, Jane Pankey, Bertha Rose, Irene Rushing, Ella Chase, a visitor, Mrs. Freeman Dodd, and the hostess, Mrs. Henderson.

Next meeting will be held June 3 at a place to be announced later.

Pink and Blue Shower Honors Mrs. Jim Gleyre

Bolivian Tin Heiress Dies

PARIS (U.P.) — Secrecy today surrounded the death of young and lovely Isabel Patino Goldsmith, Bolivian tin heiress who found brief happiness in a runaway marriage.

Mrs. Goldsmith died Friday night between 8 o'clock and 9 o'clock at swank Hartman Clinic, part of the American Hospital, following a brain operation performed by five Paris surgeons after she had a cerebral hemorrhage.

Hospital authorities refused to give any information surrounding the death of the beautiful 18-year old brunette whose runaway romance with British hotel chain heir James Goldsmith made world-wide headlines four months ago.

Goldsmith, whose father owns numerous hotels in Britain and on the continent, was at his wife's bedside when she died.

Despite the secrecy, it was known that Mrs. Goldsmith was pregnant.

Isabel and Goldsmith captured the world's imagination last winter when they braved the wrath of her father, Bolivian tin tycoon Antonio Patino, and were married in the tiny Scots village of Kelso.

The ceremony took place Jan. 7 just seven hours after Papa Patino had withdrawn a court injunction banning their marriage on the ground she was under the legal age of 21.

Dark-eyed Isabel met the Eton-educated Goldsmith in London last June during the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II. Isabel's death occurred on the eve of the queen's return to London from an around-the-world tour of the commonwealths.

Junior-Senior Prom Held at Carrier Mills

One of the top events on the social calendar of the Carrier Mills high school — the Junior-Senior prom — was held Friday evening in the school gymnasium.

The gym was attractively decorated to represent the famous night club, the Stork Club of New York, and Ted Paschedag's orchestra furnished the music.

Dick Santy, president of the Junior class, and the response was for class, welcomed the guests to given by Darrell Felty, senior class president.

Faculty sponsors of the Junior class are Mrs. Pat Steely, Mrs. Jean Crowder and Mrs. Oma Lee Lewis.

The "Stranger" Everyone Knows!

The big car eases out from the boulevard and comes to a soft, silent stop. A man steps out from behind the wheel and heads for his destination.

The license plate reveals him to be a person from another state—a "stranger," so to speak.

But the golden crest on the hood of his motor car tells everyone something about him. For it is the famous crest of Cadillac—and no man is wholly a stranger, wherever he be, when he drives this distinguished car.

Any owner can tell you, out of his own personal experience, that a Cadillac is a virtual "letter of introduction" for the man who sits at its wheel.

He becomes, in a sense, the "stranger" everyone knows—a member of the most distinguished motor-fraternity in all the world.

This priceless aspect of Cadillac ownership is but one of the many rewards which come to the owners of Cadillac cars.

In fact, it might even be considered an extra dividend—for it comes in addition to the car's great and distinguishing beauty . . . its brilliant and inspiring performance . . . its magnificent comfort and luxury . . . and its remarkable economy of operation.

As a matter of fact, it would be a formidable task to recite even a basic portion of Cadillac's cardinal virtues for 1954—for the car is superlative in every respect and has been markedly advanced in every phase of appearance and operation.

Of course, it would take only an hour on the highway to understand what it all means in terms of pleasure and satisfaction—and that's why we suggest that you come in and see us—soon.

Why not make it today?

Dionne Quintuplets To Celebrate 20th Birthday May 28

NORTH BAY, Ont. (AP)—The Dionne Quintuplets will graduate out of their teens in two weeks, but their father said today he didn't expect any of them to marry soon.

All five of the famous girls will be away from home for their 20th birthday May 28.

Marie will spend the day at the Holy Sacrament Convent in Quebec City, where she is preparing to become a nun. Her parents will see her for the first time since she entered the convent six months ago when she takes her novitiate vows May 24.

Annette, Cecile and Emilie will celebrate at Nicolet, Quebec, where they are taking a domestic science course at the Institute Familiale. Yvonne, who is studying art at the Notre Dame Congregation in Montreal, and Mr. and Mrs. Olive Dionne will probably travel to Nicolet for the occasion.

Dionne said that as far as he knows none is thinking of marriage.

Army Sgt. Richard L. Beal, whose wife, Margaret, lives at 811 South Land street, recently arrived in Tokyo for duty with the 772nd Military Police battalion. A supervisor in Company B, Beal entered the Army in 1940 and is a veteran of World War II. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Able Bowen, live at 722 South Land street.

Social and Personal Items

Helen Sherer Circle Meets With Mrs. Daisy Rude

The Helen Sherer circle of the First Baptist church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Daisy Rude, 127 South Water street. Mrs. John Sisk opened the meeting with prayer after which Mrs. Loren Lucas conducted the business period. The circle voted to give $5 for the Sunday school mission sponsored by the church. Mrs. Merle Guard was chosen as the new president taking the place of Mrs. Lucas who is moving to Danville in June.

The devotion, "Holding to God's Hand by Faith," was given by Mrs. Lucas using the scripture, Hebrews 11:1-6. An interesting program was given with Mrs. Stanley giving the topic, "The Royal Law," and Mrs. Mima Woolard, the topic, "Baptists are Good Samaritans."

The social hour was a farewell party for Mrs. Lucas and each member presented her with a beautiful handkerchief as an expression of their love for her. Refreshments of apple-putting cake and iced drinks were served to the seven members present: Mrs. Mima Woolard, Mrs. John Sisk, Mrs. Merle Guard, Miss Elizabeth Murphy, Mrs. Stanley Price, Mrs. Loren Lucas and Mrs. Daisy Rude.

First Baptist Clara Freeman Circle Meets

The Clara Freeman circle of the First Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. J. B. Moore, 720 South Ledford, Thursday afternoon, May 13.

The meeting opened by the circle chairman, Mrs. Mora Laxton, and special prayer was offered by Mrs. Hubert Hawkins. The devotion was given by the program chairman, Mrs. Marion Froman, who took her scripture from Luke 16:19-25.

Mrs. Albert Sisk gave an article, "The Royal Law," and Mrs. Laxton told about "Lunchtime in Korea," taken from "The Commission."

Mrs. Opal Johnson, a member who has been ill for several weeks, was able to attend this meeting, and Mrs. Malvina Turner, Marion, mother of Mrs. Archie Abney, was a guest.

The next meeting is to be at Mrs. Abney's home, 414A West Poplar. Mrs. Abney closed the meeting with prayer.

Delicious refreshments of angel food cake, strawberries with whipped cream and coffee were served by Mrs. Moore, the hostess.

Mrs. E. W. Smith Hostess To Every Hay Circle

The Every Hay circle of the First Baptist church met for the May session at the home of Mrs. E. W. Smith.

The meeting was opened by the singing of the hymn, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and with prayer by Mrs. Bolen Perkins. Mrs. M. R. Williams presided over the business session during which reports of the different chairmen were given. A greeting card was sent to Mrs. John Small who was absent from the meeting.

After the business session the program chairman, Mrs. Corby Wickham, read scripture from Luke 16:19-25, then read a poem, "Needy People," Mrs. Wickham then led in prayer.

Mrs. Raymond Greer, Mrs. Euleus Hughes, Mrs. E. W. Smith and Mrs. Frank Chalmers all gave topics on "Lunchtime Around the World," and the theme was centered on Korea. Mrs. M. R. Williams and Mrs. Bolen Perkins gave topics on "Old Clothes and Missions" among the Indians in New Mexico and Arizona. Then the hymn, "Make Me a Channel of Blessing," was sung.

The group was dismissed by prayer by Mrs. Williams. After the program the hostess served dainty sandwiches, cookies and punch to those mentioned and to Mrs. William Spiraling and Mrs. Charles Gustin.

THE STORY: Lenny, young bride of Tom Dahlstrom, already has sensed that her mother-in-law is displeased because Tom did not marry Astrid Nelson, daughter of an old family friend. Forced to live in the same house with her mother-in-law, Lenny is acutely aware of strange tensions. Before the young couple has had time to get settled, Astrid comes to call. Not having heard that Tom is married, Astrid kisses Tom.

VI

It was a light kiss, yet a kiss of promise. Then Astrid Nelson smirked ever so slightly and introduced the man behind her, "Tommy, I want you to meet a very dear friend, Jerry Schmidt. He's engineering the new highway from here to Eau Claire."

As he gripped hands with Tom and said the conventional things, Jerry Schmidt grinned a lopsided grin and glanced out of the corner of his eye at Astrid as if he, too, knew that she was using him to increase Tom's interest.

When he dropped Jerry's hand, Tom looked up the stairs. His smile broadened as he motioned Elaine down.

"Astrid," he said, "may I present, Elaine. My wife."

Astrid caught her breath and went a little pale under her heavy make-up.

"Then she flicked her hand through Elaine's and said smoothly, "Well, this is a surprise." Brushing her hand across her simple, white jersey dress as though to wipe off an invisible taint, she added, "I suppose best wishes are in order." Her brown eyes traveled from Elaine's ballerina slippers to her short, curly hair. In that instant Elaine judged herself as severely.

Suddenly, the velvet skirt Tom had admired became what it was, a homemade and amateurish; the sweater a bargain basement bit of nylon she had hand-trimmed into a caricature of a picture in a fashion magazine. She felt the hot blood crawl up into her cheeks. She longed to flee up the stairs, fling herself across the wide bed and let her stifled tears gush into her pillow.

A strained atmosphere enveloped the four people at the foot of the stairs.

"I guess I'd better introduce myself," Jerry said. "I'm Jerry Schmidt, Elaine. And my favorite sport is kissing new brides." Pulling her to him he kissed her firmly on the lips.

Elaine almost complied with her ridiculous desire to hug him for kidding away some of the tenseness of the moment. Then, over his shoulder, she gazed into the disapproving eyes of Mrs. Dahlstrom.

The disapproval changed to warmth when Mrs. Dahlstrom saw Astrid. "How nice to see you, Astrid," she smiled as she put out her hand. "I've had such a longing to see you—my dear. Won't you sit down at the piano and play for us before we get to talking and forget all about it?"

"Of course, Aunt Signe," Astrid replied. "But first you must shake hands with Jerry Schmidt."

Disdain glinted in her eyes as Astrid Nelson stepped out of the little circle and sat down at the piano as though it were hers. Elaine didn't know quite how it happened, but within a moment Tom was standing over Astrid ready to flip the pages for her. Jerry was leaning on the other side, his hungry eyes on Astrid's immobile face. Mrs. Dahlstrom and Elaine were seated across from each other in big, easy chairs.

The whole room was filled with the smoldering excitement that exuded from Astrid. No one paid heed to Elaine, curled up in the immense chair, trying to make herself as insignificant as possible.

Reflecting from the shiny, white keys, the shaded light above the music rack dusted the cloud of amber hair that fell down around Astrid's shoulders with gold. Elaine tried not to see the admiration and affection in Mrs. Dahlstrom's eyes as Astrid's tapered fingers moved with exquisite grace along the keys. Astrid played well. Elaine had to admit that. But her sense of fair play couldn't deflect the little jabs of jealousy that were making her position worse.

She chided her feelings. Why shouldn't Tom and Mrs. Dahlstrom be delighted to have Astrid call? Tom and Astrid were lifelong friends. Astrid was the daughter of Mrs. Dahlstrom's best friend. Everybody knew that.

And what mother wouldn't be proud if her son had chosen a woman as beautiful and talented as Astrid for his wife, particularly when she came from the same background? Wasn't that what the psychiatrists and marriage analysts were always preaching?

But Tom married me. Elaine repeated the words to herself again. Tom married me. Tom and Astrid began to sing a melody as startling and silver-toned as the music that soared from the harp of the piano.

Elaine felt her lips begin to form a smile. Then Tom glanced her way. He winked and for an instant he smiled. Then his eyes shifted to Astrid again as if the smile he had given Elaine was only the beginning of a smile he had meant for Astrid.

Elaine's smile stiffened. She held the corners of her lips up until the muscles in her cheek seemed to freeze with the effort. The music took on a raucous sound. When Tom and Astrid started to sing the Norwegian words that went with it, the music became more disagreeable. If she could only escape this noise and this room where she was as foreign as a clump of dirt on the heavy gray carpet.

They finished the song. The

COAL HYDROGENATION

Coal hydrogenation is defined as the pulverization of coal, mixing it with oil, and adding hydrogen at a specific temperature and pressure, and the process is employed to supplement the production of aromatic chemicals, gases, pitch, naphthalene, cresols, and quinoline, heretofore derived almost wholly from coke oven operations.

sound Astrid made as she carefully rifled the pages of the songbook was as offensive as her playing had been.

Heck, no! He's been shopping with his wife!

People buy more in Summer than in most other months of the year!

Away on vacation? Heck, no! You can find 94% of the people at home at any time during June, July and August—still shopping at a fast rate. Still reading newspapers. Still buying the things they read about!

As the famous retailer Bernard Gimbel said recently: "There is no excuse for reduced sales effort. The business is there if we go after it—all summer long."

SUMMER MONTHS get their full share of year's business — and more besides! 23.3%. (Source: Dept. of Commerce)

Sales are as hot as the weather!

People spend more money on merchandise in June, July and August than in most other months — as the chart shows.

Are you taking advantage of this?

Business leaders are capitalizing on this!

Mr. Gimbel says: "We're going after summer business because we feel that there are too many valleys between the peaks that have no reason to be there."

And he adds that summer business is "the most neglected, the most under-promoted area in our whole merchandising system."

Are you planning special summer promotion?

And they're using newspapers!

They know there's no summer replacement for the newspaper. People buy and read newspapers avidly all summer long!

If you haven't made big summer promotion and advertising plans, start now.

Dorrisville Students Receive Honors In Program Held in School Gymnasium

Honor Day at the Dorrisville school was held yesterday afternoon in the gymnasium. The program, of which Brose Phillips, principal, was in charge, opened with the seating of honor students on the stage.

Roll call was made of pupils with perfect attendance, beginning with the kindergarten grade: Linda Bristow and Judy Hale; first grade, Carla Neighbors and Phillip Reynolds; second grade, Joanne Elam, Curtis McClusky, Richard Hull and Nancy Harrod; third grade, Albert Beal, Sharon Landis and Danny Cogel; fourth grade, Bobby Brown, John Carlton, Denzel Ferrell, Carol Gullidge, David Hardesty, Edward Harrod, Darlene Landis, Tommy Mick, James Peak and Barbara Mark; fifth grade, Jimmy Dillon, Nicky Rector, Jo Anne Bennett, David Landis, Larry Bob Winters, Freda Steinsultz and Carol Reynolds.

Sixth grade, Ann Kuppert, Betty Conrad, Pat Dill, Larry Lyon, Kay Kelhank and Harry York; seventh grade, Philip McDowell, Linda Noonan, Billy Joe Brown, Jimmy Pellum, Barbara Parish and Jimmy Proctor; eighth grade, Darlene Abney, Glen Berry Beal, Bill Eriss, Mary Jane Mullinix, Thelma June Stone, Thelma Thompson, Pat Aldridge, Beverly Bristow, Pat Durfee, Jack Simpson and Robert Wilson.

Recognition of spelling contest winners was then made: second grade, Joanne Elam (paced second in county); third, Rita Bristow; fourth, Frances Ann Edwards (placed first in county); fifth, Janet Fisher; sixth, Carolyn Hayes; seventh, Linda Noonan, placed (third in county); and eighth grade, Christine Brown.

Magazine sales citations were awarded to Marilyn Day and Darlene Jarrell. Mrs. John Woodcock, music instructor at the Dorrisville School, awarded ribbons to four sixth graders which were entered in the Illinois Music contest. The eighth grade girls' sextet consisting of Pat Durfee, Mary Jane Mullinix, Darlene Abney, Beverly Bristow, Linda Staffey and Judy Hicks, were given second place ratings; the seventh and eighth boys' sextet which won a first place rating included Wendell Fisher, Gene Lyon, Robert Wilson, Clifton Harris, Glen Berry Beal and Leroy Agin; the sixth grade girls' sextet, Linda Lyon, Rita Edwards, Patty Abney, Utha Melton, Pat Polance and Linda Ferrell, won a first, and the fifth grade girls' sextet, Roxanne Partain, Vernetta Duke, Sharon Dorris, Janet Fisher, Freda Steinsultz and Joanne Bennett, a superior rating.

In the alcohol poster contest Mrs. Louis Gall, assisted by Mrs. Ben Sisk, English teacher at Dorrisville, gave money awards to third grade, Frances Polance, Dianna McKeever, Glen Ford and Reta Bristow; fourth grade, Karel Gullidge, Edward Harrod, Nelle Kuppert, Dennis Ferrell and honorable mention, Frances Edwards and Barbara Mark; fifth grade, Richard Dodd, Roxanne Partain, Leonard Brantley and Gordon Williams and Sue Burroughs, honorable mention; sixth grade, Beverly Gidcum, Murlene Rice, Betty Conrad, Ann Kuppert and Carl Stokich, honorable mention; seventh grade, Philip McDowell, Billy Joe Brown, Marilyn Day, Linda Noonan, and Louise Wilson, honorable mention; and eighth grade, Linda Staffey, Christine Brown, Thelma Thompson, Pat Aldridge, and Beverly Bristow, honorable mention.

In alcohol essays and plays, which were judged as one group, Christina Brown won first prize with an essay, and Mary Jane Mullinix won second with a play and third with an essay. Basketball honor letters were given to Bill Eriss, Clifton Harris, Jimmy Stokich, Donald Trail, Gene Lyon, Jack Simpson, Billy Joe Brown, Philip McDowell, Wendell Fisher, Glendale Fuhr, and John Turner.

Cheer leaders, Judy Hicks, Beverly Bristow, Mary Jane Mullinix and Pat Durfee were recognized. Scholastic honor letters were presented to Irma Phillips, Christine Brown, Thelma June Stone, Mary Jane Mullinix, Thelma Thompson, Beverly Bristow, Linda Noonan, Philip McDowell, Billy Joe Brown and Wendell Fisher. Honor pupils from the fifth and sixth grades who were not eligible to receive letters were mentioned.

The American Legion school medal awards were given to the boy and girl who best displays outstanding qualities of honor, courage, scholarship, leadership, service, companionship and character, Billy Joe Eriss and Beverly Bristow. Second place winners were Pat Aldridge and Clifton Harris. These were presented by Attorney Glen O. Jones who was accompanied by Bob Hall and Jimmy Gwaltney.

County superintendent of schools, R. Dale Wilson, made a short talk following the program.

McCarthy Favors Demand to Call Top Officials
Sen. Dirksen is Cool to Proposal to Quiz Brownell, Adams

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy indicated today he favors that five of President Eisenhower's top advisers testify at the Army-McCarthy hearings.

But Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) was decidedly cool to the proposal which threw the hearings into an uproar Friday afternoon just before they recessed for the weekend. The administration said nothing officially. But it clearly was not enthusiastic about Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams, and three other high officials going before television cameras in a row it frankly deplores.

President Expresses Distaste
Mr. Eisenhower again emphasized his distaste for the hearings Friday night when he told an Armed Forces Day audience to retain its faith in the soundness of America despite such things as "unworthy scenes even in our national capital."

McClellan demanded the five administration officials be subpoenaed to testify after Army Counselor John G. Adams refused to answer questions regarding a conference they held on the Army-McCarthy clash Jan. 21. Adams revealed in his testimony Thursday that the meeting had been held. He said it took place at the Justice Department and that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., Deputy Attorney General William P. Rogers, and White House Aide Gerald M. Moran had been present in addition to himself, Sherman Adams and Brownell.

When members of the Senate Investigating Subcommittee sought to cross-examine him on the meeting Friday, however, Adams balked. He said he was under orders from higher-ups not to discuss it further. McClellan (D-Ark.) insisted that the subcommittee should call everybody except the President, if necessary, to find out if the charged against McCarthy stemmed from "higher authority" than Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens.

"I want to know who that higher authority is," he said just before leaving for Arkansas. "I want to know the truth. I don't know whom it will hurt or help."

Extremely Important
McCarthy agreed today that it is "extremely important to find out everything" about the meeting. He said he is particularly interested in the roles played by Brownell and Rogers. "I've always liked Herb Brownell," he told newsmen. "I'm inclined to think he is willing to come down here and say what happened."

The subcommittee gave Adams until Monday to produce written reasons why he could not testify about the meeting. Army Counselor Joseph N. Welch said the "instructions" not to talk were transmitted by Deputy Defense Secretary Robert B. Anderson. But he said he could not say where they originated.

Over the last few years the demand for growth for products using chemicals supplied by coal has been so great that present coal chemical facilities are inadequate to meet the demand, but the knowledge that coal is one of the most plentiful sources of chemicals has spurred research to find better methods of recovering these valuable chemical derivatives.

Rehabilitation of Delinquent Child Is Discussed at Governor's Conference
SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The 23rd annual Governor's Conference on Youth and Community Service drew to a close today with talks on the effects of motion pictures, radio-TV and comic books on children.

Friday's opening sessions ended with panel discussions by representatives of four counties on "Utilizing the Neighbors in Rehabilitating the Delinquent."

Rock Island County Judge Edward J. Turnbaugh told how citizens' advisory boards were set up in four cities and 10 villages there to handle delinquents.

Youths Given Guidance
Turnbaugh said whenever possible youths arrested in Rock Island County are referred to these committees of prominent people for guidance to avoid giving the child a criminal record.

"We want to keep these children from having official court or arrest records," he said. "As long as we get the desired results of saving the child we're satisfied."

Sgt. Madeline Johnson, Rock Island policeman, said the law agree of the county agree, and said "a delinquent child is one requiring the help of every one of us."

The Williamson County program of organized sports was lauded as outstanding in the field of anti-delinquency work by Illinois Youth Commissioner Eugene J. Czachorski.

Richard W. Poston, director of community development at Southern Illinois University, delivered the Friday keynote speech and blasted adult attitudes which condone politically protected crime.

He said prostitution and other violations of local, state and federal laws are "commonplace" and suggested that "pressure or pay-offs may have something to do with it."

He said this attitude certainly has a bad effect on youngsters.

Train Stock to Respect Electric Fence

It takes just about one easy lesson to teach an animal to respect an electric fence. But that first lesson is important. And the teaching job isn't difficult.

Agricultural engineer Frank Andrews at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture suggests that you tie bright, shiny tin can lids or other bits of bright metal to your fence wire at regular intervals. This serves two purposes:

The flashing pieces of metal will make the fence wire easier to see so that the animal won't blunder through it or over it. At the same time they will attract the animal's normal curiosity. With its curiosity aroused, the animal will nuzzle up to the wire to see what goes on. The first light shock satisfies the inquiring mind, and the lesson is completed. A refresher course usually isn't necessary.

If you are installing an electric fence for the first time, it may be convenient to do some advance training in the yard or pen where the animals are kept. Just run a decorated wire across one corner for a couple of days. The animals will learn to stay away from this single wire adorned with tin can lids. And they will remember when they see the same thing in an open field.

By making use of metal strips or can lids, you can substitute relatively inexpensive, easy-to-handle, smooth, copper-coated steel wire for the more expensive and harder-to-handle barbed wire. In this way you save both money and time.

As final suggestions, Andrews urges all farmers to buy good equipment that has the label of the Underwriters' Laboratories or the Wisconsin Industrial Commission. Install the fence properly, making sure that you have good connections and that the fence controller unit is well grounded.

Plant Within Allotments for Corn Support

Plant within allotments to be eligible for corn price support, Edgar V. Thompson, office manager of the local ASC office, advised farmers today.

"The 1954 corn crop is not under marketing quotas as in the case of wheat, so there is no direct penalty on corn," he said, "but farmers will lose price support eligibility if they fail to plant according to their allotments."

In some instances a producer will have an interest in the corn crop on more than one farm located in the commercial corn area. (All counties in Illinois are in this area except Williamson.) In these instances the following rules apply:

(1) If all farms are planted within the allotment the producer will be eligible on all farms.

(2) If one or more of the farms are overplanted: a. The producer will not be eligible on the overplanted farm or farms. b. The producer will be eligible on farms planted within the allotment provided there is sufficient underplantings so that his share of the overplantings on all farms do not exceed his share of the underplantings on all farms. (If his share of overplantings exceeds his share of underplantings, the producer is not eligible on any farm.)

Farmers should also keep in mind that they will not be penalized under future allotment programs if they fail by some small amount (not more than 10 per cent) to plant their full allotted acreage. Secretary Benson has announced that any farmer planting between 90 and 100 per cent of his corn allotment will be treated in future programs as if the allotment were fully planted on the farm in 1954. In other words, if 90 per cent of the allotment can be planted in whole fields on a given farm there is no reason to split another field just to round out the allotment.

Keeping youth on the farm is important and something that needs serious thought on the part of parents. With high school graduation days rolling around it is time to be thinking about what the son who graduates will be doing this summer. Give some thought to taking him into a father-son farm operation agreement.

Such agreements give the son opportunity to get started in farming with little or no capital on his part, and enables Dad to slow up some in his work. Father-son farm operating agreements combine the capital and the superior management of the father with the labor and enthusiasm of the son—ingredients for an expanding and profitable farm operation.

Too often enthusiastic, capable young men are lost to agriculture because parents decide too late to take their sons into some kind of father-son farm operating arrangement which gives some encouragement and a goal to strive toward.

Now for something on poultry production.

The greatest enemy of egg quality is heat. Warm summer days necessitate special attention. A good egg is not just an accident. It is the result of good management. Provide good feed and water, gather the eggs at least twice daily, keep the eggs in a cool place, and market them frequently.

Encourage egg consumers to use more Grade A eggs. Broody hens lose weight while staying on the nest and they certainly don't help fill the egg basket. Putting them in a broody coop a few days with feed and water usually discourages their broody tendency.

Here are a few reminders for the farmer who lets livestock run in his woodlot. Large timber of ten is damaged by the animals through trampling and injuring roots.

One acre of improved pasture is the equivalent of between 15 and 25 acres of woodland pasture for

Predict 40 Million Bushel Wheat Crop in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — A 40-million-bushel 1954 winter wheat crop was predicted Monday by the Illinois Crop Reporting Service.

The indicated crop is 29 per cent smaller than last year's record of 57 million bushels, but 35 per cent larger than the 10-year average of 30 million bushels.

Harvested acreage is expected to be one fourth smaller than last year's due to cuts in government program allotments, but yield should break all records except last year's top of 27 bushels an acre. The service estimated a 26-bushel yield. It said harvest will be under way before the end of next month.

The service said the rye crop is expected to be 1,200,000 bushels, more than double the 1953 harvest. A 100 per cent increase in rye planting followed the sharp reduction in wheat seeding. Marked improvement in soil moisture and good progress in field work provide an excellent general crop outlook, the service said.

Farm Boys' Forestry Camp August 8-14 At West Frankfort grazing livestock. Then, too, pound for pound, the grass grown in open sunlight is considerably more nutritious than grass grown in the shade of forest trees.

There also is the danger of livestock eating poisonous plants while grazing in farm woodlands.

It might be noted, too, that pastured woodland usually is a poor home for wildlife.

UNCLE SAM'S FARM SURPLUS INCREASES—A 16-month supply of wheat was being held by the U. S. Government at the end of Feb. 1954, almost double the amount held during 1953, according to the National Industrial Conference Board. Above Newschart shows farm items held by the government during the two-year period, and how long the supply of each would last at the present rate of consumption. The cotton stockpile grew from less than three months' supply to almost a year's supply, while butter rose from a half-month supply to almost three months.

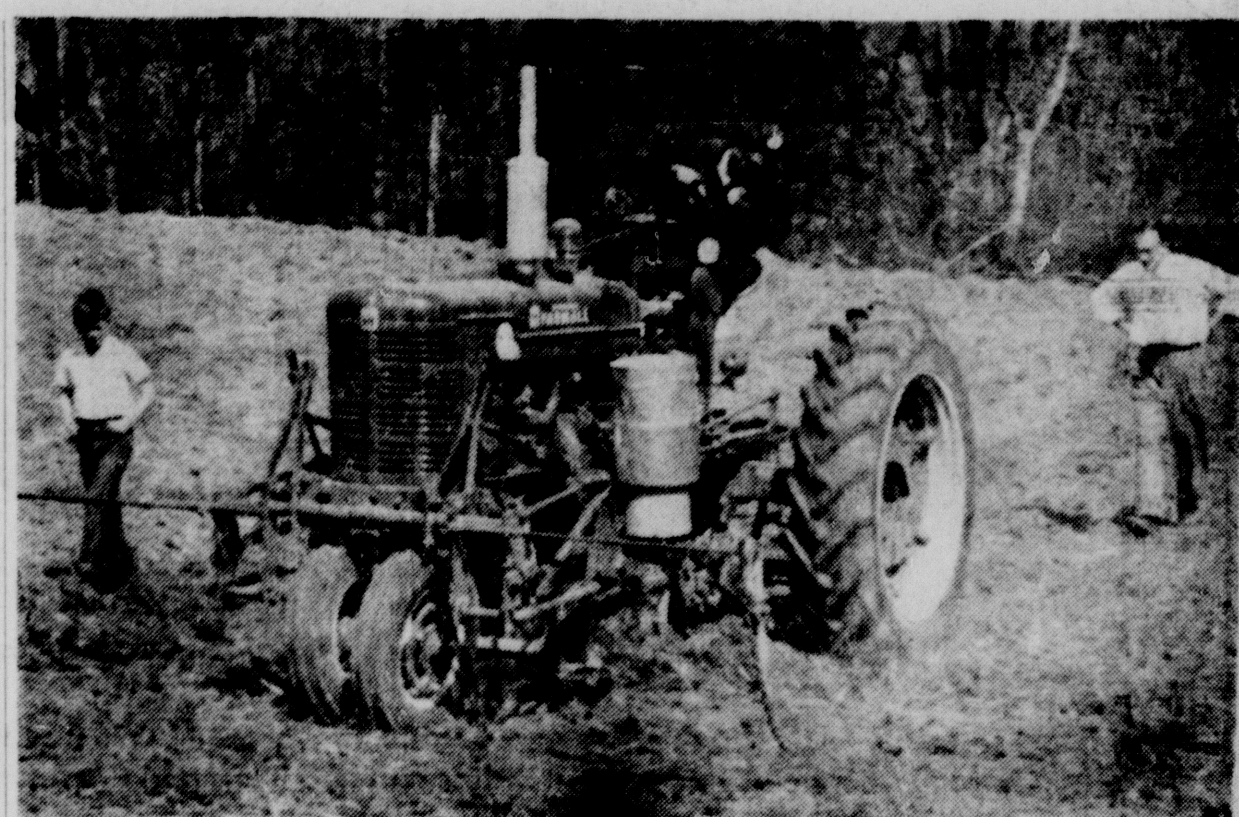

Poultry Range Reduces Disease, Cuts Feed Costs

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Range time for pullets is at hand, says Scott Hinners, Southern Illinois university poultry specialist.

Poultry raisers striving for strong healthy pullets for next fall's laying flock cannot afford to overlook the value of plenty of fresh green pasture. Putting the young chickens on the range reduces disease hazards and has a tendency to cut the feed costs materially.

The first consideration is to move the range shelters to new pasture each year. In this way the poultryman leaves behind an accumulation of disease germs and parasites from previous years and provides a satisfactory approach to disease problems. At least a year should lapse before using the poultry range area again, Hinners says. Neither should growing pullets and the laying flock range together.

A good poultry pasture provides an abundance of green feed and sunshine. Ladino clover or alfalfa pastures provide feed of relatively high protein value. Having the range near a corn field, or having a few rows of growing corn in the pasture, provides some shade from the sun.

THIS MULCH-PLANTER attachment for tractors will be demonstrated in operation on Southern Illinois University's Experimental Farm at 1:30 p. m. Thursday, May 20, during the annual SIU Agriculture Club Roundup program. The equipment has been widely publicized as a labor-saving, erosion-control method for planting corn with one operation in sodded fields. Only narrow bands of soil in the corn rows are disturbed and cultivated, leaving strips of sod between rows to curtail erosion. (SIU News Photo)

Portable shelters are desirable. Plans for shelters in use at SIU may be obtained from the SIU Agriculture department, Hinners says. They are of an inexpensive type that may easily be moved through the average farm gate and may be placed side by side to accommodate a larger number of float regulators for the water supply. Hoses are used for connecting waterers to the barrels or pressure system.

Feeders should be protected from rain. Range shelters designed at SIU have feeders attached which give adequate feeder space for the chickens housed during rainy weather.

Favor Vukovich To Win Pole Post In '500' Trials

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The nation's speediest racing cars lined up at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway today in quest of the pole position for the 500-mile Memorial Day race.

Fair skies and pleasant temperatures, ideal for the job at hand, were promised by the weather bureau for the first two days of 10-mile qualifications.

Among the first expected to try was Bill Vukovich, defending champion. The 1953 checkered flag winner was shooting for his second consecutive pole position and also new track records for one and four laps.

The old records, set by Chet Miller in 1952, are 139.600 miles per hour for one lap and 139.034 for four laps (10 miles). Miller was killed in a practice spin at Indianapolis exactly a year ago today.

Driver Unhurt in Spin
The last day of pre-trial practice featured the season's fastest lap and a spin.

Duane Carter, of Indianapolis, toured the oval at 139.1 and lent credence to the belief of some experts the 2½ miles will be covered in 140 miles per hour or better for the first time in history during four days of qualifications.

Cal Niday, Pacoima, Calif., was unhurt when his car slid and spun in the southwest turn. The car was not damaged.

Weather permitting, a dozen or more drivers hoped to take the test today, and half the 33-car starting field may be decided at least temporarily by dusk.

Post Position to Speediest
The car which travels the fastest on the opening day gets the No. 1 spot in the front row, plus $1,500 special prize and $1,000 extra if its speed is best of the entire qualifications.

The slowest qualifiers, however, face the prospect of being "bumped" out of the lineup by faster cars in later time trials.

Vukovich again is the pre-race favorite, as he was last year.

Vic Raschi Wins Easy 10-1 Victory Over Dodgers, Fourth Triumph of Season

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

Even without his old pin-striped Yankee uniform, Vic Raschi struck terror into the hearts of the Dodgers and they were just as futile as they usually are in the World Series.

Quick Vic took charge Friday night and finally pitched the Cardinals to their first victory in Brooklyn since 1952 after 12 straight defeats there, winning an easy 10-1 decision for his fourth triumph of the season without a loss in the National league.

The Cardinals acted as if they had been transformed into Yankees and it was October instead of May. They pounded out 14 hits, including Stan Musial's 11th homer which put him all alone out front in the majors, and a three-run blast by rookie Tom Alston.

Raschi could have been sharper, for he gave up eight hits and walked five, but he was great with men on base, leaving 10 stranded. It was his fourth victory against only one defeat against the Dodgers, excluding exhibition games. His only defeat to come came when Carl Erskine pitched his 14-strikeout World Series record triumph last fall in Brooklyn.

Giants Top Cubs
The Giants moved into a virtual first place tie with the Phillies by slugging out 15 hits, tops for the season for them, in a 9-6 victory over the Cubs that extended their winning streak to six games, equaling the longest string in the majors thus far. Al Dark got five hits, including a two-run homer, and Don Mueller socked four singles.

Rookie Gene Baker and Ralph Kiner each hit their fifth homers for Chicago.

In other National league games, rookie Al Fowler edged veteran Murry Dickson in a 1-0 duel as Cincinnati defeated the Phillies, while Pittsburgh snapped a seven-game losing streak with a 3-2 victory over Milwaukee in 10 innings.

The White Sox regained first place in the American league with a 4-3 last ditch victory over Philadelphia, the Yankees made it four victories in a row with a 6-4 triumph at Detroit, Baltimore put over five runs in the eighth to give Bob Turley his fourth victory, a 7-2 triumph over the Red Sox, and Cleveland made a five-run first inning featuring a grand slam homer by George Strickland stand up for a 5-2 win over Washington.

Bobby Adams, who had ruined Robin Roberts' no-hitter the night before with a first inning homer, plagued the Phils again Friday night when he singled, took second on a sacrifice and scored the only run of the game on a single by Gus Bell. Fowler and Dickson each gave up eight hits. The young Cincy right hander gained his second win without a loss.

Pirates Beat Spahn
The ex-Milwaukee battery of Max Surkont and Walker Cooper haunted their old mates in Pittsburgh's victory over Warren Spahn, their second in 13 games against a southpaw. Surkont stuck it out for an 11-hit triumph while Walker

Cooper delivered the winning run with a 10th inning double. Bob Skinner of Pittsburgh and Johnny Logan of the Braves hit homers.

Cass Michaels drove home Minnie Minoso with a single for the winning run at Chicago after he had lashed a two-run homer and a double earlier. Reliever Don Johnson gained his fourth victory, coming to the aid of starter Billy Pierce.

Bob Lemon, given a big lift on Strickland's productive homer, breezed to a six-hit triumph, his fifth without a loss at Cleveland. He struck out six. Ed Yost hit a Washington home run.

Turley, the Baltimore Bullet, struck out 11 to give him a season total of 53 as the Orioles put over their five runs in the eighth after Boston had tied the score at 2-all in its half of the inning.

The Yankees handed Steve Gromek his first defeat after five wins, rookie Bob Grim gaining the triumph after he took over for Harry Byrd, who pulled a muscle in his side. The Yankees tapped Gromek for 12 hits including four doubles and a triple. They made 14 in all.

Friday's Star: Al Dark of the Giants, who hit four singles and a two-run homer for a perfect night in a 9-6 victory over the Cubs.

Merchants to Play Thebes Here Sunday
The Harrisburg Merchants will make their third attempt for their fifth victory of the season tomorrow afternoon at the town park diamond against the Thebes Greyhounds.

Billy McNew will be on the mound for the locals with Dick Romonosky receiving. It will be the first starting assignment for the young fireballer this season despite the fact that Bill has hurled some excellent relief.

The Merchant batters have been throttled in their last two times out by a pair of young curveball artists, Bob Carver of the Paducah Chiefs threw a four-hitter at the locals and Eddie Rice, Benton's former high school flash, duplicated the feat last week.

Thebes' record for the present season is unknown, however the boys from the banks of the Mississippi have a good young ball club. The locals defeated the Greyhounds last year on the strength of a pair of homers by Val Gribble.

The Merchants' starting lineup probably will be Odle ss, Fred Williams 2b, Gully 3b, Dunbar 1b, Bob Williams rf, Parton lf, Logsdon cf, Romonosky c, McNew p.

Royer-De-Crecy Wins Upset Over Tiger Jones

NEW YORK (AP)—Lanky, long-armed Jacques Royer-De-Crecy of France was the toast of Madison Square Garden's matchmaking department today because of his astounding upset victory over Ralph (Tiger) Jones, third-ranking middleweight contender.

The much criticized Frenchman took matchmaker Billy Brown "off the spot" Friday night by winning a unanimous 10-round decision over Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., the 5-1 favorite.

Royer weighed 160½ pounds; Jones, 158.

His surprise triumph in the nationally televised and broadcast fight was witnessed by a sprinkling of about 1,500 cash customers—perhaps the smallest boxing crowd in Garden history. The scrap was staged in virtual privacy because of blasts by New York sports writers against the "mismatch."

As a reward, the Frenchman who nearly quit the ring in disgust last year, probably will get another TV-radio fight with Equardo Lauee of Argentina early next month.

Marion Nine Wins District Meet

Marion trounced Grayville, 13 to 2, yesterday afternoon to win the Norris City district baseball tournament and to advance to the Du Quoin sectional meet.

Marion, winner of the Harrisburg subdistrict, had an easy time with the Grayville boys. Jimmy King pitched all the way for the Wildcats and allowed five singles. Marion collected 10 blows off Tate of Grayville.

The winning Marion club will face Anna-Jonesboro in the first contest of the sectional, probably Monday afternoon.

Junior High Fourth In Southern Illinois Meet at W. Frankfort

Harrisburg Junior high school finished fourth with 14 points in the southern Illinois track and field meet held yesterday afternoon at West Frankfort.

Mt. Vernon and Du Quoin tied for first with 25 points each, and West Frankfort was third with 20.

Billy Earl Yates accumulated nine points for the locals when he leaped five feet for first in the high jump and finished second in the 220-yard dash.

Leland Drue was fourth in the 50-yard dash, Dave Abell fourth in the shot put and Bob Clark fifth in the 110-yard low hurdles for the other local points.

Stock Car Racing Program Tonight

The second stock car racing program of the season on the Saline county speedway is scheduled to be run off this evening. Time trials will start at 7:30 and the regular racing program at 8 p. m.

The 1954 racing program started last week and the first injury to require hospitalization during the three years of racing on the local track was suffered.

Nathan Anthony of Waltonville received chest injuries when his car was up ended. He was taken by ambulance to Lightner hospital, but was released Monday.

A full racing program is scheduled for tonight, track officials announce.

In 1953, imported heavy residual fuel oil was equivalent to an estimated 33 million tons of coal, and it is the importation of this residue from foreign refineries that the coal industry, the railroads and others are requesting Congress to limit.

New Discus, Shot Put Records Open State Track, Field Meet

CHAMPAIGN (AP)—An unheralded discus thrower and a shot putter set new records Friday as 573 Illinois high school athletes opened the 60th annual State Inter-Scholastic Track and Field Meet.

Bob Pellant of Rockford East floated the discus 162 feet, 1½ inches on his last throw in the finals to win and establish a new state record. Glenbard's Tom Peters set the shot put record with a preliminary throw of 56 feet, 7¼ inches.

Dick Abner of East Peoria won the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet, 2¾ inches in the only other final event.

Rockford East and East Peoria took a first day lead with five points each. Other school scoring was: Macomb and Heyworth, 4; Christopher and Arlington Heights, 3; La Grange and Lincoln of East St. Louis, 2; and Canton and Palestine, 1.

Lincoln and East St. Louis, La Grange and Highland Park qualified three each for today's finals to lead the 35-school field. Wendell Phillips, the pre-meet favorite to take the team title, placed two boys in the finals. Their ace high hurdler, Abe Booker, failed to qualify when he tripped on a hurdle.

Outstanding preliminary times were turned in by Waukegan's mile relay team with a 3:27.7 clocking, 4-10th of a second off the record. La Grange's Dick Caffey, defending champion, and Lincoln of East St. Louis' Bob Terkins qualified for the 440 with identical 49.7 times. Phillips had the best 880-yard relay qualifying time, 1:31.4.

Final standings in the broad jump were: 2. Dick Leatherwood, Macomb; 3. Anthony Velasco, Christopher; 4. Jim Shannon, Lincoln of East St. Louis; 5. Bill Meyer, Canton.

In the discus: 2. Rodney Bonser, Heyworth; 3. Dick Winterbauer, Arlington Heights; 4. Ted Caiazza, La Grange; 5. Paul Beeson, Palestine.

Indiana Eliminates Minnesota from Big 10 Baseball Race
By United Press
Indiana eliminated Minnesota from the Big Ten baseball race Friday with a 5-3 victory over the Gophers.

Jim Applegate paced the Hoosiers at the plate with two hits for three appearances. Jerry Clark posted his second loop win, scattering 12 hits. Don Streeter was charged with the loss.

John Wallfred, hitting three for three and batting in two runs, led the Minnesota attack.

The Gophers attempted to boost their 5-5 loop record as they took on second-place Ohio State today in a twin bill at Columbus. The Buckeyes posted an 8-2 win over Iowa Friday with pitcher Hal Northrup allowing only three hits. They clinched their seventh win in 10 conference games with a four-run third inning uprising.

Ohio State was expected to put Paul Ebert and Dick Finn on the mound against Minnesota's Paul Giel. The second Gopher starter had not been named.

Life is much like this race. It is a handicap, a struggle against odds, a contest to be won.

This race begins in the cradle when the "little man" bangs his first rattle against the crib. It continues when he takes his first step, rides his first bike, carries his first books to school, and comes home with his first girl friend.

Preparation for living is all-important. Our children have so much to gain, so very much to lose. They will need robust health, a well-rounded education, but most important of all, they will need moral and spiritual strength. They must learn to interpret God's will concerning their lives.

Take your children to Church, so that their future destiny may be guided by God's word. And by example, show them how the most important race of all can be won—the race of life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
To call a woman a "Jezebel" is to mark her down as among the most corrupt and vilest of human creatures. It emphasizes the way in which Biblical personalities and events have become symbolic in literature and throughout the ages.
The CHRISTIAN HERALD, in the days when the famous T. Dewitt Talmadge was its editor, used to have a section under the heading, "The Bible and the Newspaper." This section linked many modern events with similar happenings in the Bible.
I suppose that to many, even well-informed people, allusions to the Bible which are quite intelligible to Bible students are not at all understood, or their source is not recognized.

I have often told the story of the young man in Providence, R. I., who made the discovery of the Book of Esther when he bought a boat called The Vashli.
I was amused some years ago when, in dictating about someone "hanged high at Haman's gallows," my secretary, an honor graduate of a distinguished college, had gone to the Literary Editor to ask what I meant.

Of course, I suppose we might all be easily stumped. My wife recently expressed amazement that I couldn't tell her about some Biblical matter about which she thought I ought to know.
There are an enormous amount of details that have little or nothing to do with the moral and spiritual teaching of the Bible. But about the main facts and characters of the Bible anyone who has even moderate literacy pretensions ought to be informed.

This is quite a digression from Jezebel. But what is there to say about her anyway, except that she was a scheming, evil woman? The one to talk about in that story is Elijah, who didn't hesitate to fight her even though she was a woman.
If Jezebel had been a worshipful woman, sincerely and earnestly devoted to her false gods, one might have some sympathy and respect for her as an honest, though mistaken and deluded, believer. Even at that any respect might fall when one considered the licentious and immoral aspects of the idolatry to which she adhered.

But she was no sincere idolater. She was a vicious and murderous woman who stopped at nothing. The depth of her wickedness was not found only in her opposition to Elijah and her effort to destroy him. It was also in her action about Naboth's vineyard (1 Kings 21). Ahab seems to have been a mild character in comparison with her, though he was evil enough.

To have stood against these two, king and queen with power on their side, meant profound courage as well as faith. A greater one than Elijah was to come, who refused to "call down fire from heaven as did Elijah" when his disciples wanted him to punish villagers who had treated him rudely.

Jesus rebuked them, saying, "Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of." He had come to save men's lives, not destroy them. But according to his light, and his time, Elijah was a great prophet of righteousness, a true forerunner of the greater Prophet of Love.
